Introduction

2021 was a year that brought many challenges while giving us much to celebrate and reflect on here at The Hyde. While our operations were on pause from January until May, we remained busy preparing to reopen and share this world class art collection with you once again while honoring our essential workers and their efforts to keep us safe and to keep our economy moving forward.

While school children returned to in person classes and many in our community went back to work, we provided a robust array of online programs to support their learning. We engaged with local working artists and entrepreneurs to deliver inspiring talks in our lecture series. We said, “Hello, Again!” on May 1st and opened our doors and our hearts to you. We hosted Director’s Circle events, the Summer Luncheon, and we hit the dance floor at The 2021 Hyde Collection Gala: Always in Style, our most successful event to date, in Museum history.

This year, we launched The REIMAGINE Project, with an emphasis on improving inclusion & accessibility while enhancing the overall visitor experience. This multi-year series of improvements are all for you; our museum-going, art-loving community.

These challenging times required strong and dedicated leadership. Board Chair Chelsea Hoopes Silver exemplified these qualities and many more. Chelsea’s determined and collaborative spirit coupled with her exceptional ability to lead The Hyde as a beacon for hope in a time when people needed it most, was extraordinary. Her term as chair was completed in December, but her impact will be felt forever.

2021 was a year that was possible because of YOU. Your support and championship of The Hyde was felt by everyone who walked through our doors and beyond. Because you cared, The Hyde Collection is strong and is well positioned for future success and growth, while remaining faithful to Mrs. Hyde’s passion. There is much work ahead of us in 2022, and we know that with your support and generosity we can continue to put The Hyde on the world’s stage as a leader in the arts. Thank you for believing in The Hyde.

As we enter 2022, The Hyde Collection is very happy to report that Jason Ward will serve as Board of Trustees Chair. Jason is a lifelong advocate for the arts, and has been an ardent and committed supporter and volunteer for The Hyde Collection. We look forward to Jason’s leadership in the year ahead.

With Gratitude,

Norman E. Dascher, Jr.
and Your Friends at The Hyde Collection
Here at The Hyde Collection, 2021 was a year of stabilization. As the Museum resumed normal operations and reopened our doors, we saw enthusiastic renewals from our longstanding members. What's more, throughout the year, our donors, government lenders, and foundation partners all gave generously to aid in our recovery. This year, The Hyde Collection was fortunate to receive both the Shuttered Venue Operators Grant as well as the Paycheck Protection Program 2 loan. Unique only to 2021, this funding was crucial in sustaining staff and operations, as well as returning community-engagement initiatives.

The Hyde Collection
Annual Luncheon

The 2021 Hyde Collection Summer Luncheon in honor of Charlotte Miller was a wonderful celebration after spending nearly two years apart. We welcomed over 160 of our cherished friends at the beautiful Inn at Erlowest, and celebrated longtime champions of the Museum, Edith Brown Astruc and Sally Bixby Defty as we raised vital funds for The Hyde.
In advance of its 60th anniversary as a public museum (2023), The Hyde requests grant funds for its REIMAGINE Project, which seeks to dramatically enhance the visitor experience, improve museum accessibility, and bring The Hyde’s history to life (through a new physical orientation gallery, a new video, and digital exhibition).

Specifically, this multi-year project includes substantial improvements to the Museum’s entrance and outdoor campus (new awning, outdoor classroom, contemporary seating, and projection on both sides of the entrance), the translation of Hoopes Gallery into a permanent orientation gallery, and campus-wide visitor-centric infrastructure improvements (outdoor Wi-Fi capability, signage, and lighting). All of these projects are designed to make The Hyde experience more welcoming, dynamic, immersive, and accessible.

We believe these activities will 1) enliven our outdoor campus, creating a more conducive atmosphere for community activities, 2) bring the history of the Museum (the family and the Collection) to the forefront in a more direct and compelling way, and 3) enhance accessibility for all visitors, especially accommodating those challenged by mobility, language, and other mental or physical limitations.

This new concept would move the “orientation” video from the lower level Rotunda (second floor of Hyde House) to the Hoopes Gallery, adjacent to the museum lobby and connector to Hyde House. In addition, a new video and digital exhibition will provide a more comprehensive view of the Museum’s history online, on a mobile app, and on touchscreens in the Hoopes Gallery.

The Museum’s board and staff agree that this level of investment in The Hyde experience will provide a more welcoming atmosphere, improve community use, expand collaboration opportunities, extend visitor time on campus, and forge a deeper connection between visitors and The Hyde’s history, which is inextricably linked to the history of Glens Falls and the greater Lake George region.

Ways to Make an Impact

Did you know that contributions, gifts, and sponsorship from members of our community like you makes up over 50% of The Hyde Collection’s operating budget? We are so grateful to those who came forward in 2021 as we reinvigorated projects and programs and planned for what comes next for your world-class art museum. In 2022, there are many ways to share your generosity with The Hyde.

Appeals - The Hyde Collection thrives on your generous contributions to our annual campaign. Your donations directly support all we do here at the Museum including exhibitions, community cultural events, educational programming, tours, and preservation of the collection. You can give anytime of year, but be sure to watch out for Hyde Collection Appeal communication during the Spring and Late Fall of 2022.

Employer Matching Gifts & 401K Distributions - Does your employer offer a company match? Matching gifts are an easy way to increase, and often double, your donation. You may also be able to expend a portion of your retirement plan annually, tax-free. We are happy to connect with your employer’s human resources personnel to assist you with this.

Events - We look forward to you joining us at the 2022 Hyde Collection Summer Luncheon in honor of Charlotte Miller and the 2022 Hyde Collection Gala! Please join us by purchasing a ticket, joining the Honorary Committee, bidding during the silent and live auctions, and raising your paddle to support The Hyde.

Sponsorship Opportunities - By sponsoring exhibitions, events, and educational programs, you play a vital role in championing The Hyde Collection. Sponsorship gives you or your organization the opportunity to strategically position your brand in front of The Hyde’s broad audience reach across our social media platforms, member communication tools, onsite signage, and more. You’ll also enjoy VIP tickets to Hyde events and receive generous and frequent recognition.

Planned Giving & Bequests - As you plan for your future, we ask that you consider including The Hyde in your will. Estate gifts provide for The Hyde’s continuous growth and development. Planned giving includes many options you may not yet be familiar with, but are highly advantageous for you.

Stock Transfers & IRA Distributions - Donation of stocks or IRA distributions are one of the easiest ways to show your support. Acknowledged upon receipt at that days’ value, a stock gift is one of the most efficient ways to give generously. Similarly, gifts made via an IRA distribution offer a tax-wise way to satisfy your minimum annual distribution, while simultaneously benefiting The Hyde.

Gifts of Art & Other Precious Items - If your personal collection includes valuable works of art, automobiles, jewelry, or other precious items, these commodities can be of great value to The Hyde. Please contact us to find out how these items could augment our collection or be converted into vital operating funds.
