Van Gogh in Detroit:
Featuring Orchard with Arles in the Background
at the Detroit Institute of Arts with Jonathan P. Canning, M.Phil., Director of Curatorial Affairs and Programming

October 30 – November 2, 2022
Dear Members and Friends of The Hyde Collection,

Join us this October in Detroit, as we follow one of The Hyde Collection’s treasures, Vincent Van Gogh’s Orchard with Arles in the Background, to the Detroit Institute of Arts (DIA). We’ve loaned this 1888 masterpiece to the DIA for their special exhibition Van Gogh in America. I am thrilled that Hyde Collection members will have special access to the DIA’s rare, historic display of 70 authentic Van Gogh works from museums around the world.

Van Gogh in America marks an incredible milestone: One hundred years ago, the DIA purchased Van Gogh’s Self Portrait, making them the first public U.S. museum to own a work by the Dutch master. The Hyde Collection’s own close partnership with the DIA dates back to our museum’s very origins, when William R. Valentiner, the DIA’s former director, served as personal art advisor to the Hydes. This fall, our tour of the DIA will provide up-close access to their many masterworks, including Diego Rivera’s Detroit Industry Murals, his 1932-33 fresco cycle of twenty-seven striking paintings on four walls in the museum.

Throughout this journey, we will experience the revived Motor City’s history and culture as expressed through its art, architecture, and music. We’ll begin at the Cranbrook Art Museum with exclusive, curator-led access to their private vaults. We’ll go behind the scenes of Eliel Saarinen’s lovingly restored, Art Deco-style home and studio that he built as Cranbook’s resident architect on the museum’s campus in the late 1920s.

Our group will also have a special inside look at Henry Ford’s original factory where the Model T was produced—the Ford Piquette Avenue Plant, now a museum—when it is closed to the public. This journey concludes with an intimate evening of farm-to-table dining and live jazz at the acclaimed Dirty Dog Jazz Café, a Detroit institution.

Please join me for a deep dive into the fascinating world of Vincent van Gogh while exploring Detroit’s cultural legacy.

Sincerely

Jonathan P. Canning, M.Phil.,

On the museum’s campus, take a private look at its architectural jewel—Saarinen House, the Art Deco masterwork designed by Finnish-American architect Eliel Saarinen, father of Eero Saarinen. Then, join a chief curator for an exclusive behind-the-scenes visit inside the private vaults of the museum’s Collections Wing. Back in Detroit this evening, join the group for a short walk through the Renaissance Center—the city’s riverfront complex of seven soaring skyscrapers owned by General Motors—and attend a private welcome reception and dinner at a nearby restaurant. MONDAY, OCTOBER 31: DETROIT Travel with a local historian for an appreciation of Detroit’s architectural gems, including a private tour of the Fisher Building, a National Historic Landmark known as “Detroit’s Largest Art Object.” The building, an Art Deco masterpiece completed in 1928 by architect Albert Kahn, was originally conceived by the legendary Fisher Brothers as an ode to American builders and craftsmen. After lunch, visit the original factory where the Ford Model T car was produced—the Ford Piquette Avenue Plant, now an important automotive heritage museum—on an exclusive tour away from the crowds when it is closed to the public. Dinner is at leisure.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1: DETROIT
Our focus today will be on the DIA, including the Van Gogh in Detroit exhibition featuring The Hyde Collection’s own Orchard with Arles in the Background. You will also enjoy a private inside look at highlights from the museum’s collections. Behold Diego Rivera’s Detroit Industry Murals, his ambitious fresco cycle charting Detroit’s long history as well as the mechanized bustle of the Ford Motor Company. It consists of twenty-seven paintings over four walls, completed in 1932-33. Venture along Lake Shore Road to Grosse Point to discover the Ford family’s exquisitely designed former residence. Join the director at the Edsel & Eleanor Ford House for a private tour of this 1927 property designed by Albert Kahn, with landscapes by Jens Jensen. For dinner this evening, head to the Dirty Dog Jazz Café, a farm-to-table restaurant in Grosse Pointe Farms. Our group will be greeted by owner Gretchen Valade, the entrepreneur, philanthropist, and music lover who helped save the Detroit Jazz Festival. Enjoy cocktails and hors d’oeuvres in the private boardroom, followed by dinner accompanied by live jazz, a truly special finale to our journey.
